

The UfYH Guide to Spring Cleaning for Actual People

- Keep washing your fucking dishes.
- Open a damn window.
- Anything fabric that isn't clothes and can go in the washing machine? Wash it.
- What's that gross shit stuck to the floor over there? Wipe it up.
- It's warm outside now, so take your goddamn trash out.
- Do you have a vacuum? Well, it's not doing you any good just sitting there. Use it. Use it on anything you can: floors, walls, weird spaces under stuff. Don't use it on your pets.
- Is something in your fridge possibly gaining sentience? Throw it out.
- How long has that light bulb been burned out? Just change it, for crying out loud.
- Change the batteries in your smoke detectors, because fire is a crappy way of dealing with a mess.
- No, but seriously. Keep washing your fucking dishes.
